

Alabama's Leading Marketing Association

About Us:

Birmingham AMA is the leading marketing association for professional development and networking in Birmingham and in Alabama. Through our events, educational programs and high-profile speakers, we have established a standard of excellence in advancing the marketing discipline.

Our Members:

A diverse group of marketing professionals representing a variety of disciplines: decision-makers, marketing professionals, small business owners, executives, founders, educators and students from advertising, public relations, digital media, product management, research, consulting firms, and the rest of the marketing spectrum.

Our Mission:

To bring together marketers across all disciplines to collaborate and inspire one another, and provide opportunities to interact with high-profile guest speakers, access to latest marketing strategies and trusted best practices, effectively manage their careers, and increase opportunities for business growth.
